"Starting the course, I felt welcomed and comfortable because of the teachers' help and advice. It's quite a big place so the group activities we'd do gave me confidence to come out of my comfort zone. This helped in my part-time work too, where I often talk to customers, so this really boosted my communication skills.

My classmates are talkative and get along. We're all different but sharing the course brings us all together. I feel like I've made friends for life!"
