YEAR 11: Philosophy, Ethics and Religion

Curriculum Intent

In Year 11 students study the WJEC Eduqas Religious Studies course which is aimed at honing their critical thinking and communication skills. They examine core Islamic beliefs, teachings and practices from the perspective of both Sunni and Shi'a Muslims and critically assess religious and secular views in response to questions concerning life and death and crime and punishment. Students will continue to develop tolerance, respect for others, as well as a sense of belonging within a diverse British society in order for them to identify and develop their own beliefs.
