April 2024

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to bring your attention to the latest update regarding the imabi inspire app.

Imabi inspire remains a valuable resource for our students, offering comprehensive guides on topics such as mental health and exam stress. Additionally, it provides a direct communication channel for students to reach our safeguarding team and access links to support services like Childline.

Since its introduction, imabi inspire has become an additional layer within our school's support framework. We are proud to have led the implementation of this app, which centralises essential resources for our students' benefit.

Accessing the app is straightforward, requiring students to log in with their school credentials. The app complies with GDPR regulations to protect students' data.

imabi inspire supports the school by offering detailed reporting tools, streamlined communication channels, and access to support resources, enabling us to create safe spaces for students and respond promptly to their needs. For students, imabi Inspire provides a dedicated platform to access support, report incidents, browse useful information, and receive important notifications quickly.

Additionally, a parent portal is coming soon, allowing parents to view and use the information available to their children. We will keep you updated.

While we understand that downloading apps may not be everyone's preference, we believe that imabi Inspire offers benefits to our students. It serves as a readily available support system whenever they may need it. Therefore, we kindly ask for your assistance in encouraging your child to explore this valuable resource.
